

COVID19 Survey Wave 1

Q93 This is a challenging moment for our country. We are trying to learn how all Americans are reacting to the current health threat, the economic slowdown, the sacrifices required of the people, and the brave acts of those providing our essential services. In addition, we would like to learn about our fellow Americans' views about things citizens might do and the policies the government might consider in the future to help the country work through the crisis.

We would very much like to hear what you have to say. Thank you for your willingness to respond to this survey during this especially difficult time.
